

BEST PRACTICES 2023-24

7.2.1. Portray two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual

Enhancing Student Experience through Learner-Centric Initiatives

FIMT has adopted a learner-centric approach that places students at the forefront of academic and extracurricular activities, empowering them to take on leadership roles and actively participate in the organization of various institutional programs. This initiative is designed to develop students' leadership, teamwork, and organizational skills, while fostering a sense of responsibility and ownership over their learning experiences.

Students at FIMT are now actively engaged in planning, coordinating, and executing a wide range of events, including National and Intra Moot Court competitions, Model United Nations, National Service Scheme (NSS) activities, National Cadet Corps (NCC) initiatives, Unnat Bharat Abhiyan (UBA) projects, and BJMC Pro Bono Society events. By taking charge of these functions, students get hands-on experience in event management, problem-solving, and decision-making process, all of which are critical skills, for their future careers.

This shift towards student-led initiatives not only enhances their overall experience but also aligns with FIMT's commitment in providing a dynamic and interactive learning environment. Students learn to work collaboratively, communicate effectively, and to navigate challenges, all of which contribute to their personal and professional development. This practice ensures that FIMT graduates are not only academically proficient but also well-equipped with the practical skills needed to succeed in their chosen fields.

PROMOTING RESEARCH AND ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

In addition to its focus on enhancing the students experience, FIMT has placed a strong emphasis on increasing research activities among both faculty as well as students. Recognizing the importance of research for academic and professional growth, the institution has created an environment that encourages and supports scholarly work in the institution.

FIMT promotes the creation of handbooks for various societies, clubs, and centers within the college, providing necessary resources for both students and faculty. These handbooks serve as comprehensive guides, outlining best practices, goals, and strategies for the successful functioning of these groups. Furthermore, the institution actively supports the publication of research papers and books by both faculty and students, contributing to the broader academic community and fostering a culture of intellectual inquiry.

This emphasis on research not only enhances the academic reputation of FIMT but also provides students and faculty with opportunities to contribute to their respective fields. By promoting research and publishing, FIMT ensures that its members remain engaged in continuous learning and knowledge dissemination, furthering the institution's mission of academic excellence.

Through these two best practices, FIMT has created a vibrant and dynamic educational environment that prepares students for leadership roles and encourages a lifelong commitment to learning and research.
