Dear Parents & Students

At the outset the Team FIMT (Fairfield Institute of Management and Technology) express their heartfelt and sincere gratitude for providing with such valuable and constructive support through these exacting times which has posed different challenges for each one of us. It seemed impossible to have a full year without regular classes between Students and Teachers. But as they say "necessity is the mother of Invention" similarly the situation soon became an opportunity for us and the students to move a notch closer towards being technologically advanced. At the end of the semester students felt energised and motivated to take on the University's term end examination. In our own analysis while adapting, we also evolved, and we can say with confidence that we became wiser.

Year 2020-21 being a difficult year for all of us, the Management had decided to continue with the Classes which initially for few days will be operated through Online Mode (Google Meet) for the upcoming session till further guidelines by GGSIPU/State/Central Government Guidelines. The Online Classes shall be commencing from 15th March 2021 (Monday) and time table for the same will be uploaded on the college website soon, also the various Do's & Dont's of Online Classes you are aware of is again being uploaded for your reference.

All these decisions have been made after several rounds of discussion, even experimentation and planning which includes the minute of details. Needless to say, we have prioritized the interests of the students as we always do.

Perhaps words are insufficient to communicate how eager we are to have a return to complete normalcy, to convey the sentiments of the entire staff-teaching and non-teaching -raring to be with the students again. We are prepared, hopeful, and undoubtedly feeling upbeat- ready for a new chapter - but we cannot throw caution to the wind- not yet. The months of hard work to protect our health, sacrifices made along the way and the resilience developed cannot just be cast aside. Let us be ready for new challenges and take them head on like we did last year: boldly but tempered with wisdom.

Keep Supporting us like you always do....

Warm Regards

Management
